It was released in China on December 22, 2017. In the US, Lionsgate Premiere released the film in theaters and on VOD on July 6, 2018. [4] Hong Kong plot Special Agent Lin Dong was told that his daughter Xixi (who suffers from leukemia) was in critical condition. He drove to the hospital, but on the way, his co-worker, Xiao Su, told him that critical witnesses were in danger. Agent Lin stopped right outside the hospital, paused, and turned around to protect a critical witness, Dr. James. Dr James injected himself with a chemical stored with a mechanical heart just before police burst in to escort him away. They are ambushed by men in exotic black armor and high-tech weaponry led by a terrible-looking man named Andre, and almost all in the team are killed. Xixi, meanwhile, died in hospital. Before Andre could claim Dr James for himself, Lin Dong managed to hit him with an oil tank using his car. When Andre was shown to be highly resistant to the impact of the car and the bullets Lin Dong fired against him, Lin Dong shot the oil tank instead, causing a huge explosion. Both Lin Dong and Andre were later shown to be safe, although Andre's injury made him a cyborg. 13 years later in Sydney, Australia, author Rick Rogers recently released a book called Bleeding Steel about a U.S. Marine with a mechanical heart. A woman named Li Sen, disguised as a prostitute, visits Rogers at his hotel, drugs him, and downloads information from his computer. At the same time, a woman dressed in black and two men in black armor attacked the building and tortured Rogers to reveal his source of inspiration for the book, while Li Sen hid in the suite's bathtub. At that point, the intruder is attacked by Lin Dong, who is also trying to figure out the same answer. Rogers was killed by the woman, and the arrival of the police forced everyone to retreat. When informed of the failed operation, Andre identifies Lin Dong and Li Sen and sends the Woman after the latter, but Li Sen has escaped. based on the data they cleaned from Rogers, Li Sen, and Lin Dong separately began tracking nancy, a young girl plagued by nightmares about a laboratory where strange freaks Done. To confront them, he had visited a spiritualist, who was the source of Roger's manuscript. She was tracked down by the Black Woman, but was rescued and taken to safety by the combined efforts of Lin Dong and Li Sen. Next, Nancy revealed xixi, resurrected by the efforts of Dr. James, who was working on improving human genetics, especially regeneration, to create an enduring bioroid army. James fitted Xixi with a mechanical heart and an abiogenic blood substitute that improved his regenerative abilities. However, xixi's death temporarily left his amnesia, where he was admitted to an orphanage for his own safety, while Lin Dong and his old unit secretly watched over him. His nightmare stems from James's memory scarred in a complex that had been injected with himself, and his blood afterwards used in his resurrection. Andre, a former Special Forces soldier, was the subject of another test that infiltrated the project in the interests of leading Korean arms traders to market bioroids. However, the artificial genome failed on Andre, slowly consuming it from the inside. James himself died soon after his surgery in Xixi, making him the only successful subject of his achievements. Lin Dong took Nancy and Li Sen to his home, where he locked the young man in his state-of-the-art security vault and paid a visit to the spiritualist, who he thought was murdered. Nancy flees to take a flight back to James's abandoned home, where she recovers her old memories of her father and the bank vault keys hidden by James. After her, Lin Dong is reunited with Xiao Su, but before she can reach Nancy, she is kidnapped by Woman in Black and taken separately to Andre's air laboratory. Rejoining Li Sen, who has managed to free himself, they proceed to the bank vault, where the woman, while taking a video camera from the vault, is trapped and paralyzed by Lin's old unit. Examining the contents of the camera, which details the bioroid conversion of Andre, Lin and Xiao Su suspects that he needs this information and Nancy's altered genome to give her self a regenerative effect. On board the lab plane, Andre proceeds to extract Nancy's blood and inject it into himself to recover her body. Lin Dong, Xiao Su, and Li Sen infiltrated the plane but were thwarted by an impenetrable security screen. A fight with Andre's minions forces the villain to join the fight before the transfusion is over, which gives Nancy enough time to fully regenerate and come to her father's aid. Lin and his allies threw Andre into the core of the craft reactor, which overloaded and destroyed the laboratory. Li Sen was caught up in the explosion; Xiao Su and Nancy managed to escape with a parachute, but Lin Dong was attacked by Andre before he could with them. However, because Andre accidentally injected Lin Dong with enhanced blood during their fight, Lin Dong gained enough power to remove Andre from his heart, killing him. Kill him. afterwards, while Lin Dong, Nancy and Xiao Suspend were together as a family, Lin learned from his colleague that Li Sen was the son of an arms dealer who sought to restore James's achievements and take revenge on Andre for the murder of his family thirteen years ago. She is also Nancy/Xixi's fellow partner in the orphanage and has acted out of genuine affection for her. At the same time, Li Sen proved safe and now offers camcorder footage to the most interested buyers.
